

10 Commandments for SPSF Applicants

Thou shalt not allow any distractions to keep you from fulfilling your goals in life.

Thou shalt not worship the degree you receive but remember how you came to achieve it, and stay humble.

Thou shalt not “bad mouth” the SPSF that helped you.

Remember ASPSF and help it prosper.

Honour those who paved the way before you.

Thou shalt not kill another’s vision and dream for success.

Thou shalt not “double dip” (manipulate the system) to receive the SPSF award.

Thou shalt not steal from your county’s SPSF.

Thou shalt not lie on your SPSF application.

Thou shalt not be jealous or envious of another recipient, if you are not selected. Rejoice with them. It could be your time later!

R. “Reese” Broadnax
May 20, 2005